COURSE OVERVIEW

This insightful and highly practical two-day course is designed to equip you with relevant skills and techniques on how to conduct effective interviews with victims, witnesses and subjects with integrity and in accordance with corporate guidelines, the law and regulations.

Led by Jonathan Davison, a former Detective with the Greater Manchester Police with over 12 years of investigation and specialist interview experience, participants will be engaged in leading concepts, simulations, exercises and case studies. The Greater Manchester Police is among the most advanced practitioners of modern interviewing anywhere in the world and recently featured on the BBC Television program, Eyewitness.

By the end of this insightful and highly practical course, you will have improved and developed your interviewing techniques and built confidence and effectiveness in the process of the investigations. Participants will also master the tools and techniques that can be used in investigations to extrapolate information, determine intent and achieve cooperation in the best possible ways.

This two day course outlines the detail of this process, demonstrating how to maximize opportunity to capture detailed information in a forensically robust, ethical, and transparent manner; emphasizing and evidencing the benefits of recording the process accurately, and how to 'test' the accuracy and honesty of what those interviewed tell you!

The course introduces core knowledge and context and is aimed at those working within any investigative discipline and any others who undertake investigative interviews - 'conversations with a purpose' – and who recognize the clear business benefits and added value to their organization and staff.

It is founded upon the principles of a widely used and acclaimed framework known as the 'P.E.A.C.E.' Framework of interviewing, internationally recognized as the most ethical, and thoroughly proven model to guide the interview process.

"Quite simply the most valuable and informative training I have ever received; delivered by a passionate and committed trainer who was clearly subject matter expert with many years of experience and currency, wish I'd had it years ago!"
